1 November 2009

(Revised 15 December 2009)

Dear Faculty Advisor / Head Delegate:

Below you will find the assignments for the 2010 National Model United Nations in New York City (NMUN-NY). More than 300 schools applied by the 15 Oct. preferred deadline for consideration in the first round of assignments. We were able to assign all schools who had a complete application (including payment of the $200 registration fee) at least one country assignment. Schools inquiring after 15 Oct. have been placed on a (expanding) 'wait list' for any openings. It was not always possible to assign your date preference or one of your top country choices. NMUN-NY did its best to consider your preferences and rationales (if submitted).

ACCEPTANCE OF ASSIGNMENT DUE 15 NOV.

Please confirm via e-mail by 15 November that you accept your assignment and plan to attend. If you do not confirm, we will make one more attempt to contact you and then open the country to reassignment. Send your e-mail to Secretary-General Emefa Gbedemah (secgen@nmun.org) and:

- (a) include the school name and assignment(s)
- (b) write 'NMUN CONFIRMATION' in the subject line; and
- (c) cc: yourself as a record of submission.

DIFFICULT DECISIONS

NMUN did its best to match your country and date preferences. Thank you for your patience and understanding. If you have questions after reading below, contact secgen@nmun.org.

- Assignment Process: All schools were assigned one country before any group was given a second country. No one assigned to the Security Council in 2009 was reassigned to the Council. We will continue to follow this process in the future and make this clear on 2011 application forms. Also, in order to try to meet the minimum delegate estimate, some Additional Security Council assignments were given to schools not initially indicating interest. Let us know if not interested.
- Changing countries/venues: Switching to the Marriott venue is not possible; there are no unassigned countries. There are a few unassigned countries at the Sheraton venue listed on the last page of this posting. They will be assigned to wait list schools after 15 Nov. If you would prefer to trade your assignment for one of these, contact secgen@nmun.org. First come, first serve.
- Bringing additional delegates: We value the diversity of schools participating but recognize you may not be able to bring all the students interested. Please be aware that in addition to the maximum number listed, you may bring an additional 1-2 delegates if they will not participate in a committee but act as a resource to the delegation in the role of head delegates. [You may instead assign head delegates to committee(s) within the maximum number.]
- Future Years: In 2011, the NCCA will assign all returning schools and then determine if it can accept any new schools. It is unlikely that any individual group will be able to bring more than 25-30 students.

IMPORTANT UPCOMING DATES

- 15 November - Hotel Registration forms are posted to www.nmun.org. Note: rooms are only available until the block sells out (which can occur before the cut-off date). Book early.
- 15 November – Confirmation of acceptance of your assignment due to secgen@nmun.org
- Late November - Background guides are posted as .pdf files [As part of its environmental stewardship, NMUN does not print the guides in hard copy / distribute them by surface mail.]

The 2010 NMUN promises to be the most diverse ever, with delegations coming from even more countries of the world. If you have questions or concerns related to this year's conference, please contact the Secretary-General (secgen@nmun.org).

We look forward to meeting you in New York.

Emefa Gbedemah, NMUN-NY Secretary-General secgen@nmun.org
